Tuesday's Vote Failed to Change the Situation.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 28.—The sixth ballot of the joint session of the Legislature was taken to-day. There was the same interested crowd present when the roll was called. A roll of the roll showed 132 members present and voting. The following pairs were announced: Gross, Republican; Jones, Republican; Gilliam, Republican; with Swindorf, Democrat. The sixth ballot resulted: Hunter, 65; Blackburn, 56; Henry, 5; Buckner, 1; John Young, Brown, 1; Wilson, 1—total, 182.

Sound money Democrats voted to-day for Henry Watson and as seemingly as far as ever from Blackburn. Representative Grider, Republican, of Casey, was so deeply immersed in his correspondence that he voted for Watson. The crowd applauded when Mr. Grider changed his vote to Hunter. Populist Poyer voted for John Young Brown was applauded.

The Assembly adjourned until noon to-morrow.

The investigation of the contested election of Democratic Senator resolved upon by the Republican caucus of the House will not begin until after Feb. 6. A bill making prize fighting a felony was passed by the Senate.

Complimentary to Dr. Stone.

During almost two years of professional services rendered in the Western Kentucky Asylum for the insane, I have been indeed forcibly impressed with the efficient and commendable administration of the Superintendent, Dr. J. W. Ogilvie, and with his sense of disinterested, charitable and benevolent dealing with those intrusted to his care, high Christian character, and always active beneficence has established a tie of relationship both in, and outside of that institution, which will never be broken.

It will certainly be a pleasure to us who have been subject to the political revolution in Kentucky when the time comes to take our departure, to look back with pride to the administration of Dr. Stone, who has done so much for the insane, stand as a monument to his memory, which time alone can efface or crumble. He leaves it in a condition that has never before been attained, due regard being paid to his predecessor, and the use of itself a sufficient proof to enable us to speak of the highest term of praise in behalf of his entire administration. Our best wishes go with him. J. H. W.

AMONG THE PINEAPPLES.

The Editors Away Down in The Florida Peninsula.

PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 26.—The stay of the National Editorial Association at St. Augustine was brought to an end Saturday morning. On Friday night there was a swell dinner at Ponce de Leon, followed by a dance and collation at the Alcazar casino. The cars pulled out at 9 o'clock Saturday for this place, 23 miles south and the lowest point we have been so far. After a run of these hours, a stop was made at Daytona, on the Halifax river, four miles from Ormond. Daytona is in my opinion the prettiest town I have ever seen in Florida. The reception there was most cordial. The town has about 1200 inhabitants and probably as many more visitors, who are mostly from the north. The town has a luxuriant growth of moss, a living drapery of lead colored festoons. Many beautiful houses were passed and all of them were decked out with flags and flowers and the people standing outside waving their hats and handkerchiefs as the crowd passed. The gentlemen were many of them on foot, as there were not enough carriages for all. After a tour over the town the editors went to the cars and proceeded to Ormond, where they staid over night a day. At Daytona the writer was one of a party of seven or eight who fell into the hands of Mr. Chas. Ballough. After driving over town with the rest of the party the occupants of the cars were taken across the Halifax river a mile or more to the Halifax Club House, a charming resort just finished and opened for business by Messrs. Post & Ballough. They have built an elegant little hotel and have handsomely improved grounds overlooking the broad bay, which is merely an inlet from the sea, that is only a mile away across a narrow peninsula. An avenue of palmetto trees extends from river to sea, the broad and well improved grounds being lighted with electricity from the plant at the hotel. The hotel was decorated with palms and flowers, the former gathered from the woods surrounding the house and the latter cut from the gardens in Ormond. On every hand there was an air of comfort and elegance, no shabby or forty boudoirs were already in the house, although it had not been formally opened. After dinner the proprietors escorted us over the beautiful grounds and took us to the laboratory on top of the hotel where a fine view was obtained of the鄱阳 landscape. A pretty driveway ran in front through a park where orange trees were growing under the hotel tables. Radishes, green peas, cabbage, ripe tomatoes and lettuce were seen and Irish potatoes were being and growing several inches out of the ground. Mr. Ballough soon joined the little party and gathered bouquets for the ladies from the garden surrounding her own cottage on the river bank. Down in the edge of the river was an oyster bed, and the oysters were taken from the water and eaten raw from the shell. We also visited the bathing pool near by, where the water was heated by steam and the building lighted by electric light. We had a good time and time to accept the invitation to take a plunge in the brine. The carriages were then brought out and we were driven down the beautiful palmetto avenue and four miles up the hard sandy beach to Ormond, where we took a boat and passed the peninsula to be the finest long beach in the world. For 25 miles it is as smooth as a floor and almost as hard as cement. It is from 50 to 100 feet wide, according to the tide, and extends to the sea being almost level. It is a drive of a distance by vehicles of all kinds and makes a circle course that could not be improved upon anywhere. On the way up I found a long stranded on the beach, having been brought ashore by the breakers. I took it and got about on land. I caught it before it could escape. It showed fight and uttered a plaintive cry when taken. It is as large as a goose and of beautiful plumage. It is still alive, but I must get it ashore if it will turn its back before I get home. Many wild ducks were also seen riding the waves with a few yards of the coast.

The car remained at Ormond until Sunday afternoon and at there were two excursions in the little town of the day. We attended the morning services. After lunch at the splendid Ormond Hotel, owned by the Flagler railroad company on whose line we are now traveling, the joyney was resumed. But few President D. Griffin Gunn.

D. Griffin Gunn, D. D. brother of Dr. J. A. Gunn, of this city, who went West about fifteen years ago, is making great success in his far away home. Dr. Gunn is now President of the St. Louis, Oklahoma and Texas railroad, with headquarters located at Fort Worth, Texas. The work is in progress and a connection with the Frisco, at Sapulpa, will be made by spring. Of Dr. Gunn and the enterprise the Oklahoma man has this to say:

"Dr. Gunn is a good president of the railway, is backed by some of the strongest men in the country. So quickly has the syndicate been formed that many think so great progress in so short a time, is impossible, but we learn that busy hands and heads hold to work on it for six months or more. It indeed seems a marvelous success."

Will continue Monday.

Owing to the illness of Judge Barr, the session of the United States Court, which way to have been begun Monday morning at Owensboro, was adjourned to the cars and proceeded to Ormond, where it staid over night. The illness of the Judge is not considered serious, as he is suffering from a severe cold, but he did not care to take the risk aggravating the cold into some more serious ailment by exposing himself to the cold air of the train.

Messrs. B. D. Edition of Fairview, W. S. Cheetham, of Louviville, and J. W. Armstrong and A. Gililand, of this city, jurors selected from this county, have returned home and will not go back to Owensboro until Sunday.

Fell Down a Flight of Stairs.

Miss Cuttie Roach, the daughter of Mr. R. W. Roach, of near Montgomery, met with a serious accident a few moments ago. The young lady was coming down a flight of stairs and was looking backward at the same time she was making the descent of the steps, when she fell a distance of about fifteen feet, breaking her right leg. She was taken to a doctor and was given a splint and a cast in the hope of her head about six inches in length, necessitating the taking of several stitches to set up the wound. She is getting along as well as could be expected.

Has come to Europe.

Yesterday morning Dr. B. W. Stone left for Louisville to join Dr. Eaton a party of friends, who will take a long trip through Europe. The party will visit New York and before returning home will visit all the places of interest in Italy, Spain, Egypt and other countries. When Dr. Stone returns to America he will establish somewhere in this State a private institution for the treatment of the insane. It is likely that this asylum will be located near Louisville, but Dr. Stone may conclude to erect the building near this city. He will be absent about six months in Europe.

Offices of the Weed.

There is nothing new to report in the tobacco market this week. Offerings were made up largely of nondescript goods and prices were about the same as last week. Deliveries will be slow and steady. It is expected that some good leaf will make its appearance in a week or two. Receipts are good and the increase Sales on the loose market fairly good.

Date definitely fixed.

The Executive Committee of the Tennessee Centennial Exposition has decided to postpone the big show until May, 1897. It is probable the stockholders at a meeting to be held in Nashville February 7 will clinch the decision.

Fruit Takes a Ride.

Owing to a slight rise in wheat, the price of the local market has been advanced 15 cents per bushel. The local millers are now paying 65 cents a bushel for good wheat, but about all the grain has been bought up in this section.

Supervisors still in Session.

The County Board of Supervisors is still in session and will not adjourn until this afternoon. A large number of complaints have been laid before the Board and they have been kept up every day this week.

Dr. Letcher Takes the Oath.

Ben Letcher, of Henderson, the newly appointed Superintendent of the Asylum here, was sworn in yesterday, and immediately took form at charge of the institution. He will move his family here Monday.

A LYNNING BEE.

Negro Desperado Summary Deal With By an Armed Mob.

Monday night Conductor McCullough, a brother-in-law of Mr. Allan M. Wallis, of this city, was shot and seriously wounded by Alex Jones a negro desperado of West Virginia. Jones boarded McCullough's train, near Keystone, W. Va., in an intoxicated condition and was so boisterous that the conductor threatened to eject him. The enraged negro, who had been drinking, fired his revolver through the train. When the smoke cleared away it was found that W. H. Strother, postmaster at Elkhorn, W. Va., had been killed. Capt. McCullough and his son, the Rev. Dr. W. C. Rice, col., and received a mortal fatal wound in the breast. Jones was arrested and while on a train en route to Huntington for safe keeping a mob of 100 armed men, flagged the train and took him in charge and saw him to the hospital. His body was then riddled with bullets. Jones it is said had killed three men prior to his last offence. Conductor McCullough married Miss Annie Rose, of Louisville, a sister of Mrs. Allan M. Wallis, of this city, and is well known here. His injury, may prove fatal.

Y. P. S. C. E. Anniversary Services.

Sunday Feb. 2 is the fifteenth anniversary of the formation of the Christian Endeavor Society, and in commemoration of the event a service will be held in the Christian Endeavor Hall, which is one of the most enjoyable services ever held here, under the auspices of this society. A program, arranged by one of the ablest men in the county, and published by the United Society, has been secured. The program in which all who attend can participate, consists of responsive readings, songs, etc., and when carried out, will make a thoroughly enjoyable service. Two of the features of the meeting will be the singing by an excellent male quartet and a song by a little folks.

The public is cordially welcome. The meeting will be at 6 o'clock.

DAVENPORT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

OWENSBOURG, KY., Jan. 27.—A sensation which has been brewing for some time culminated tonight in the arrest of Dr. P. T. Rhodes, a prominent physician of Newellville, who was charged with the murder of Jared Robinson, a wealthy man and neighbor, last July. Rhodes is suspected of the murder of his wife, who died shortly before Robinson's wife, who died in the same year. Rhodes was arrested in a spirit of alarm and it is claimed he has been held since October 11 following. Rhodes and Mrs. Robinson were secretly married in October 11 following, and at once converted Robinson's entire estate into money, carrying it off in a sum of $25,000. This amount was included in his will and announced that they were going to Mexico.

Died of Heart Disease.

A. M. Vaughn, whose home was at Russell Springs, Ky., and who traveled for Phillips, Bailey & Co., of Nashville, was found dead in Wayne county Monday. The circumstances indicate that he got out of his buggy driving from a street and was struck with a heart trouble. His head was almost submerged in the water. Mr. Vaughn was about thirty-five years of age and a Mason of high standing. He leaves a wife and child and carried an insurance of $20,000. This amount is included in his will and was well known among the merchants.

Bishop Dudley Sued.

An Episcopal priest, to cost about $10,000, has been under course of construction at Beattyville, Ky., and J. R. Fisher, the original contractor, is alleged to have gone into the business some time ago without settling with his employer. It is claimed that during last fall Bishop T. D. Dudley sanctioned a new contract and work was resumed under a new contractor. The Bishop claims that the former workmen must look to Fisher for their pay, as they have brought suit against the Bishop in the Bell County Circuit Court.

Blood Hounds Still the Friend.

Last Monday an unknown negro attempted an assault on the person of Mrs. Louis Keen, a respectable white woman at Henderson. She is only fifteen years old. Deputy Marshal Atkinson put blood hounds on the friend's track and they followed the trail to the neighborhood of a training house, but up to yesterday no arrest had been made.

Prospects of Further Delay.

Senator J. W. Ogilvie is reported as not well. He is lame and Friday he has been doing rather poorly. He is disengaged and this fact tells on him. Mr. Ogilvie hoped to be able to go to Frankfort by the fifth of next month, but he will hardly be able to do this.—Paducah News.

dated glands on the inside walls of the trap pour forth a secretion which contains some substance like peptain. It is in fact a vegetable gastric juice, and under its influence the unfortunate insect is gradually more and more digested in fact. When the juice of its prey has been extracted the trap re- opens and the skeleton and wings are thrown out. This is how the plant lives, although when flies are scarce it can manage to get along on a vegetable diet, which is supplied by the roots.

STARVING PARIS DOCTORS.

Not enough Patients in Free Hospitals Cut Down by a Double Suicide, which shocked Paris the other day, brought to the attention of the public the financial straits in which, it is said, the majority of the physicians of that city live, says the New York World. Dr. Arnaud de Langard, an old physician, who had been trying to practice in Paris, had been conduct during the cholera epidemic many years ago, committed suicide with his wife because his practice had dwindled to the vanishing point and starvation was staring them in the face.

Several newspapers asserted that in Paris not more than one doctor out of five is able to make more than the barest living. Among the causes of this poverty among physicians is the desuetude of patients. Medical schools have made such great strides, that maladies of all sorts are now more quickly cured, and such precautions are taken to prevent the spread of contagious diseases that epidemics are becoming practically unknown. The number of physicians in Paris has rapidly increased. Another reason why there is not practice enough to go around is that in many of the hospitals people can be treated for nothing or at a very nominal figure. Many of these hospitals are run by charitable organizations, which are free, in which are taught the rudiments of medicine and surgery. These schools are largely attended and many sick people are taken in hand at their own homes by some members of the family who has profited by this in- struction.

HOLES IN THE CANVAS.

An Important Discovery Increasing the Efficiency of Sails.

An Italian sea captain, Glio Battista Vasallo, of Genoa, has made a very interesting innovation in the use of sails of ordinary canvas materials. He says, the Philadelphia Register, that the force of wind cannot fully take effect in a sail, since the air in front of it cannot properly circulate in the inflated part, and remain stationary immediately in front of part of the sail proper. He has remedied this difficulty by making it, by the application of a number of small holes in that part of the sail where the depression is deepest when it is filled; these holes are reinforced like a buttonhole so that they will not tear out. Trials in various parts of the world have resulted in favor of the new sail.

With a light wind, a boat with ordinary sails made four knots, while the new sail increased the speed to 5½ knots. In a fresh breeze the respective speeds were seven and 8½ knots; and in a strong wind they were 10 and 11½ knots respectively.

It stands to reason that the drag away with a layer of air, which cannot escape past the sides of the sail, must increase the efficiency of the sailboard. Where the wind formerly struck a cushion of air, it now strikes a cushion of air decreasing the actual pressure of the wind against the canvas; this current of air now strikes the sail direct, and, of course, has a greater efficiency. Vasallo has received much encouragement from practical sailors as well as the technical scientists.

PECULIAR RETAINING PEE.

John Chinaman Had It Arranged Before He Perpetrated the Crime.

Col. A. T. Voglesang, the attorney, is regarded as one of the best reasoners in the legal profession. The San Francisco Call, he let out a string of anecdotes. He said that a few weeks ago Dennis Spencer, the Napa Jum- nary, was called upon by a Chinaman who described the following dialogue concerning a knife:

"One Chinaman kill another Chinaman with a hatchet, how much you charge make him clear?"

"I'll take the case," said Mr. Spencer, "for $100." "That's all right," said the Chinaman, "I be back after while."

"In about a week he returned to Mr. Spencer's office and laid down $100 in gold coin on his table. Mr. Spencer swept the money into the drawer.

"The Chinaman, he said:

"'When you kill him?'

"'I did.'

"'When did you kill him?'

"'Last night.'

"The attorney, on the part of the audience for further light on the disposition of the $100, but Mr. Voglesang immediately spun off to another story.

You Can Believe

The testimonial published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla. They are written by honest people who have actually found in their own experience that Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and an antibiotic and permanently cures all diseases caused by impure or deficient blood.

Audubon says that he saw specimens in which the plant was used to remove the ticks from the skin of the slaughtered insects. Mr. Manda, who is an authority on the plant, says that the insects are responsible for the killing of the plant. The scientist, however, is inclined to believe that Mr. Manda, who is an authority on the plant, says that the insects are responsible for the killing of the plant. The scientist, however, is inclined to believe that the insects are responsible for the killing of the plant.

The insects act as a parasite on the plant, and it is the plant that is the victim of the infestation. Mr. Manda, who is an authority on the plant, says that the insects are responsible for the killing of the plant.

From the latest information received from Washington it appears that Judge M. D. Brown, of this city, stands a very good chance to get the appointment of Assistant United States District Attorney for the State of Utah. He has been recommended by Congressman John D. Clardy, and the appointment has been strongly urged by him and other friends of the Judge. No better selection could be made, as Judge Brown is an able criminal lawyer and is thoroughly competent to fill such a place, and his numerous friends throughout the State, while they would regret to lose him as a citizen, would be pleased to have him secure the appointment.

Representative Washington, of Tennessee, introduced a bill in Congress to appropriate $25,000 to reimburse Steward College, of Clarksville, now Southwestern Presbyterian University, for damages inflicted on that property by the Union soldiers. The bill was referred to the Committee on War Claims, and they reported the bill to the House with a favorable recommendation. This is the first Southern war claim bill favorably reported this session.

Citizens of Fordville, in the lower end of Davies county, have gotten up a petition to the Legislature for a new county to be made up of portions of Davies, Hancock and Ohio counties. Davies county would not be materially affected by the change, as the greater part of the proposed new county would be formed of territory from the other counties named.

The Governor has appointed Mr. Marion D. Meacham a Commissioner of the asylum here, vice Mr. C. F. Jarrett, resigned. Mrs. Katherine Hauser, a lady physician, has also been named for Second Assistant physician's place, and Dr. A. F. Stanley has been nominated for Third Assistant physician. All the appointments will likely be confirmed by the Senate this week.

Ex State Treasurer Hale has been elected President of the First National Bank of Mayfield, in position he held for twenty years before he went to Frankfort to take charge of the State strong box. This bank was just recently organized.

The Louisville Law and Sunday Observance association is preparing to begin a fight against the Kentucky Lottery Co., of that city, which is said to have branches in Covington, Cincinnati, St. Louis, New York and elsewhere.

The Courier, the Populist organ at Henderson, recently assigned, was bid in a commissioners sale by Lloyd Green, a former editor and the largest stockholder of the paper. The price paid was $1.

The Senators from Utah were sworn in Tuesday. Cannon got the long term and will serve until March 3, 1899. His colleague, Mr. Brown will serve until March 3, 1897.

Gen. P. Wat Hardin is announced as a delegate to the National Democratic convention, which meets in Chicago, July 7. His friends will urge his election.

State Senator N. P. Taylor, of Henderson, has announced his candidacy for delegate to the National Democratic convention, from the Second Congressional District.

Alabama Populists are said to be fearful that the Republicans will absorb their party.

Auditor Stone has submitted his statement of the State's financial condition to the Legislature, as requested. It shows the net floating debt January 6, approximately, as $1,200,000, and estimates the indebtedness June 30, 1896, at $2,000,000, a decrease of $500,000 in Treasury Long's recent estimate.

Gov. Bradley has sent a message to the Legislature recommending as a curb to mob violence that the county in which such crime is committed be made liable for $2,500 to the administrator, widow or heirs of the victim.

Several Lexington ministers are at Frankfort fighting for the passing of the Graziani anti-poolroom bill, and turfmen are also there fighting to have it modified.

An anti-lynching law has been passed in North Carolina providing that a county in which the victim of a mob loses his life shall be mulcted not less than $2,000.

It is probable that ex-Minister Phelps will be appointed ambassador to Germany, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Ambassador Runyon.

The Tennessee Populist convention will be held in Nashville, July 28. A. L. Mims was indorsed for President by the committee.

NOLEN—Mr. and Mrs. Nolen will spend some time at Sinking Fork, and Mr. Nolen may decide to make this country his permanent home.

DEATHS.

GAINES—Little Mattie Kennedy Gaines, the infant of Mr. L. W. Gaines, the editor of the Elton Progress, died Monday, after a brief illness. Her death was a great loss, as she was peculiarly sad, for probably never did parents idolize a child more than Mr. and Mrs. Gaines did their first and only baby, and the sympathies of their many friends are extended to them in their sad bereavement.

Recommends Itself

"Hood's Sarsaparilla adapts itself to the sick and well alike. To the sick it is a great blessing, and to the well it is the best safeguard against sickness. My children were weak and puny, but the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla cured them after other remedies failed. I, myself, have been typhus for twenty years and sought relief in vain. I resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla and have been built up in health. It cured my stomach trouble and my weight increased from 112 to 140 pounds. Try it ye sufferers from Maine to California and from the North to the Gulf. Hood's Sarsaparilla will do you good." D. P. Barron, Justice of Peace, Mountain Creek, North Carolina. Use it for $2.

AMONG THE PINEAPPLES.

stops were made until this place was reached about 8:30 o'clock.

Rooms had already been assigned and dinner was ready to be served. After a hearty meal and a good night we are all up early and ready for fishing and other enjoyments on the program for today and tomorrow. We turn towards home, Wednesday, and I will probably leave the crowd at Pensacola and get home by the end of this week.

"Don't be a Goose, bat Go."

The next attraction at Holland's Opera House will be Hasty Bro's, a laugh provoking musical comedy, "A Wiving Good Chase," which is intended for Thursday, Feb. 6. The Joliet, Ill. Daily News has this to say of a recent engagement:

"Chas Hasty's characterization of the widow O'Brien was as unique as it was original, devoid of all vulgarities, and his manner of delivery marked by refinement and a certain subtle pleasing humor that was laughable in the extreme. Perfect Alpha DeLloyd, the widow's gay daughter, carries the soubrette role most charmingly. She is a dainty dancer, a cute girl, prettily coquettish in a way that would make a fatigued favorite. Billy Griffin, the banjo soloist, as the tramp, and Otis Hasty, the comical dutchman, were a pair to draw to, and created all kinds of chaff.

On the whole "A Wiving Good Chase" is a very good show, and a tough prologue is a success."—Joliet Daily News.

ORCHMAN.

Dr. Kennedy, the New Rector of the American College at Rome.

Rev. Thomas Francis Kennedy, D. D., who has just been appointed rector of the American college in Rome, was born in Connecticut, in the suburb of Philadelphia, in 1857, and after taking a course at the St. Charles seminary, near that city, went to Rome and matriculated in the American college there in 1881. Having finished his course in philosophy and ecclesiastical history, he was ordained a priest by Cardinal McCloskey, then vicar of Rome, in 1887. Upon the completion of his studies Dr. Kennedy was appointed vice rector of the college by Mgr. O'Connell, ex-rector, but upon his return home was assigned to the chair of dogmatic theology in the archdiocesan seminary of Philadelphia. After his appointment in Rome, and has ever since served as a member of the faculty in the institution at Overbrook. During the period of attendance as a student at the American college he was considered among the most diligent and was regarded as one of the most distinguished graduates of that famous institution. He is said to have made a most favorable impression upon the authorities of the propaganda as a theologian, linguist and disciplinarian. As a pulpit orator he is forceful, eloquent and effective. He is a graduate of the rectory of the American college, together with the pope himself, and is usually made from a group of not more than four names submitted by the four senior members of the American hierarchy, the cardinal, archbishop of Baltimore, the archbishop of New York, Boston and Philadelphia. The priests present to the election the names of three candidates, usually graduates of the American college, who are respectively indicated as "dignitatis," "dignitatis" and "dignitatis." The propagandists consider the nomination of the aspirants, and either submit them in the same form to the pope or arrange them anew according to what may be deemed in Rome some especial work of eligibility. Technically, the rector is simply the presiding officer of the chapter, but for a year or two, however, the somewhat peculiar position of a sort of American envoy has been put upon the rector of the American college, and he is regarded as the medium of communication between visiting Americans in Rome and the holy see. He is all the time in touch with the cardinals, priests, ecclesiastics, public authorities, popular assemblies, popular audiences or other functions at which the pope is present, address themselves to the rector of the American college. Owing to the fact, to the vast number of American visitors to Rome, the friendliness of the present pontiff toward the people of the United States, the late rector, Mgr. O'Connell, grew to be one of the most conspicuous of all the foreign ecclesiastics in Rome.
